This document provides you with key investor information about this fund. It is not marketing material. The information is required by law to help you understand the nature and the risks of investing in this fund. You are advised to read it so you can make an informed decision about whether to invest.

Alma Zazove Global Convertible Fund Class I USD - C, a share class of Alma Zazove Global Convertible Fund, a sub-fund of Alma Capital Investment Funds (ISIN: LU1494400200)
This fund is managed by Alma Capital Investment Management

Objectives and Investment Policy

This Fund is actively managed and aims to maximise capital growth. The Fund invests mainly in international convertible bonds. A convertible bond can be converted, at the holder's option, into common stock of the issuing company, at an agreed-upon price.

Therefore, convertible bonds are "hybrid" securities that possess both fixed income and common stock characteristics. The Fund can invest in all types of convertible bonds.

Zazove Associates, LLC manages the portfolio for this Fund.

All income of the Fund is reinvested.

Institutional investors can buy and sell shares of the Fund on a daily basis.

The first investment must amount to at least 250,000.00 US dollars.

Risk and Reward Profile

← Lower risk Typically lower rewards			Higher risk→ Typically higher rewards
1	2	3	4	5	6	7

The above indicator (Synthetic Risk and Reward Indicator) reflects the historical level of risk and reward of this share class over the last 5 years. As it is based on its historical behaviour, it does not necessarily reflect future risk, nor reward.

This share class is classified as above since convertible bonds tend to be subject to higher price fluctuations and credit risk.

This classification is solely valid as of the date of this document; it can change in the future.

Investors investing in a fund in the category "1" above may sustain a loss. A fund in this category is not risk free at all times.

The Fund does not provide investors with any guarantee of performance nor of the value of investments in it. The latter may consequently go up, as well as down.

The indicator captures the impacts on the Fund of movements in financial markets and currencies, under normal market conditions.

Risks materially relevant to the Fund which are not captured by the indicator:

Interest rates risk: an increase in interest rates may cause the value of securities held by the Fund to decline. Bonds prices and interest rates have an inverse relationship, when the interest rates rise, the price of existing bonds falls.

Credit risk: the Fund invests in convertible bonds. There is a risk that the issuer may default. The likelihood of this happening will depend on the credit-worthiness of the issuer.

Currency Risk: there is a risk of loss arising from exchange-rate fluctuations or exchange control regulations.

Liquidity risk: liquidity risk exists when particular investments are difficult to purchase or sell. This can reduce the Fund's returns because the Fund may be unable to transact at advantageous times or prices.

Selection risk: the Investment Manager's judgment about the attractiveness, value and potential appreciation of a particular company's security could be incorrect.

Emerging market fixed income risk: emerging economies typically exhibit higher levels of investment risk. Markets are not always well regulated or efficient and investments can be affected by reduced liquidity, a measure of how easily an investment can be converted to cash without a loss of capital, and a higher risk of debt securities failing to meet their repayment obligations, known as default.

Operational risk: the Fund is subject to the risk of material losses resulting from human error or system failures or incorrect valuation of the underlying securities.

More details on the risks investors may be exposed to when investing in this Fund are described in the "Risk Factors" section and the relevant Special Section of the Prospectus.
