DB Platinum IV Selwood Market Neutral Credit

Investment Strategy

The Fund provides access to a UCITS compliant version of the Selwood Market Neutral Credit Strategy managed by Sofiane Gharred and his team at Selwood Asset Management ("Selwood"). The strategy was launched in September 2015 and trades a single investment strategy focused on liquid credit indices within the investment grade credit space. It implements the strategy by investing in CDX and iTraxx indices, tranches of these, index options and single name CDS. The goal is to achieve a market neutral portfolio which has a positive carry and positive convexity. The strategy attempts to monetise the dislocation between the actual credit spread of the CDX and iTraxx index and that implied by the CDS of the underlying index components. There has been a persistent difference between these spreads since the indices were launched in 2004, largely due to the indices being used predominantly to hedge credit exposure. The team will buy CDS on the most risky single name credits in order to minimise the risk of default to the portfolio. In addition to the core strategy supplemental alpha opportunities arise roll yield as the index rolls twice per annum to the new on-the-run series, the strategy will profit from the technical cheapening of the previous on-the-run index; the strategy also utilises derivatives such as options to create a positively convex return profile in order to try to minimise market risk.

Monthly Return Last 12 Months (%)⁽¹⁾

Key Benefits

- Selwood Asset Management LLP ("Selwood") was established in 2015 in London, UK.
- The Fund provides access to a UCITS compliant version of Selwood flagship strategy ("Selwood Market Neutral Credit Offshore Fund") managed by Sofiane Gharred⁽³⁾.
- Selwood manages over $3.7 billion as of October 2019⁽⁴⁾.
- The Selwood Market Neutral Credit Offshore Fund has generated annualised returns of 11.6% since inception, with an attractive Sharpe ratio of 6.60⁽⁴⁾.
- An independent third party will calculate NAVs and publish these daily.
- Currency hedges are effected for share classes not denominated in EUR to partly protect against fluctuations of exchange rate⁽⁵⁾.
- The strategy seeks to exploit the persistent dislocation between spreads of specific investment grade credit indices. It will invest long and short in a market neutral manner, either directly in credit indices or indirectly using derivatives on these indices.
- The strategy also utilises derivatives such as options to create a positively convex return profile in order to try to minimise market risk.

Key Risks

- The Fund provides exposure to bond markets and may also provide exposure to other asset classes, which may be highly volatile and result in losses.
- The Fund may enter into one or more derivatives with a number of counterparties. If any of the counterparties fail to make payments (for example, it becomes insolvent) this may result in your investment suffering a loss.
- The Fund is not guaranteed and your investment is at risk. The value of your investment may go down as well as up. The Fund has been designed for investors who are looking for long term capital growth through exposure to alternative investment strategies. As the Fund may therefore employ complex strategies (including the use of derivatives), it is intended only for knowledgeable and experienced investors who are able to understand and evaluate both the investment strategy and its inherent risks (such understanding and evaluation may be gained through advice from a professional advisor).
- The Fund relies upon the performance of the Investment Manager and the successful implementation of the Strategy. If the Investment Manager performs poorly or the Strategy is not successful, the value of your investment is likely to be adversely affected.
- Movements in exchange rates can impact the value of your investment. If the currency of your country of origin is different from the currency in which the underlying investments of the Fund are made (EUR), the value of your investment may increase or decrease subject to movements in exchange rates.
- The Fund is complex and may use derivatives to take long or short positions on various markets and increase exposure to particular investments. The use of derivatives involves a high level of risk as derivatives can be highly leveraged, highly volatile, and may increase gains as well as magnify losses.
- The Investment Manager may, subject at all times to the Investment Restrictions, use financial leverage in managing the Fund, including increasing investment capacity, covering operating expenses and making withdrawal payments or for clearance of transactions. Financial leverage includes, but is not limited to, buying securities on margin.
- The Fund offers weekly liquidity only. Due to the limited liquidity further losses may be incurred until the execution of a redemption order.

Commentary – Selwood Asset Management LLP – November 2019⁽²²⁾

Another month when US/China trade talks dominated the headlines. No tangible agreement was reached (again), but risk assets were better on the month. Investment grade credit indices outperformed their high yield peers as spread decompression continued. Equity markets rallied further with the main US exchanges hitting new highs even as uncertainty persisted in trade negotiations. The social unrest in Hong Kong didn't change sentiment even though President Trump signed into law the controversial Hong Kong Human Rights and Democracy Act. Safe haven assets underperformed on this positive investor sentiment. Government bond yields rose sharply across most developed economies, while gold was down -3.3%. The 10Y Bund/BTPs basis also widened as political risk increased over the stability of the Italian coalition. In the UK electioneering continued to dominate as the main parties laid out their quite different policy approaches, even if the two main parties look set to increase government expenditure significantly; UK gilts underperformed on these headlines. Brexit remained an important driver and most polls maintained a healthy lead for the Conservatives, keeping GBP well supported.

- The gross performance of the Fund in November was +0.42%
- The performance was mainly driven by the carry of +0.26% offset by a credit loss of +0.20%

Effects	Gross performance contribution
Credit	0.20%
Carry	0.26%

Exposure Comment:

- We managed to unwind rolled down positions with 1Y maturity.
- We replenished the risk by extending maturity on some existing positions.
- On the hedging side, we added short positions in payers and payer spreads with January maturity to replace the expired options.
