Investment Strategy

- The strategy was launched in September 2015 and trades a single investment strategy focused on liquid credit indices within the investment grade credit space. It implements the strategy by investing in CDX and iTraxx indices, tranches of these, index options and single name CDS.
- The goal is to achieve a market neutral portfolio which has a positive carry and positive convexity. The strategy attempts to monetise the dislocation between the actual credit spread of the CDX and iTraxx index and that implied by the CDS of the underlying index components. There has been a persistent difference between these spreads since the indices were launched in 2004, largely due to the indices being used predominantly to hedge credit exposure. The team will buy CDS on the most risky single name credits in order to minimise the risk of default to the portfolio.
- In addition to the core strategy supplemental alpha opportunities arise roll yield as the index rolls twice per annum to the new on-the-run series, the strategy will profit from the technical cheapening of the previous on-the-run index; the strategy also utilises derivatives such as options to create a positively convex return profile in order to try to minimise market risk.

Commentary - Selwood Asset Management LLP - March 2022⁽¹⁴⁾

The ongoing and worsening Russia/Ukraine war led to significant volatility in risk assets through March. European investment grade credit indices traded in a near 23bps range before ending the month only ~2bps wider. The iTraxx Main underperformed CDX IG. Longstanding steepener trades were progressively abandoned in this volatility, which saw European IG index curves remain illogically flat. Central banks were in the spotlight. Both the FOMC and UK MPC raised benchmark rates as expected, although the tone of the Fed action was deemed more hawkish with regards to the tightening path. Market expectations ended the month with a near 80% probability of a 50bps hike in May and upwards of 240bps of tightening through 2022 as a whole. The UST yield curve flattened aggressively, even inverting (2s10s) briefly. The ECB meeting was also more hawkish as it announced an earlier cessation of the APP bond buying, which led to sovereign yields underperforming as rate hike expectations were brought forward. The Bund curve saw positive yields from 3Y out for the first time since Nov-2014. Macro data did little to assuage fears on monetary policy tightening with a record EU CPI print of 5.8%, while US CPI hit a 40-year high at 7.9% with core inflation elevated at 6.4%. US jobs remained strong with an above consensus Feb NFPs (+678k vs. +423k) and a post-pandemic low unemployment rate of 3.8%.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future results, and an investment in Alma Platinum IV Selwood Market Neutral Credit (UCITS) could lose value. Gross performance is computed by taking the official NAV figures and adding back the management and incentive fees.

Exposure Comment:

- Selwood added April tail hedges via credit structures while also monetising some realised March hedges
- Selwood increased the local sensitivity of the funds to take advantage of the recent spread widening
