

Winton Alma Diversified Macro Fund (UCITS)

Monthly report – October 2024

Fund assets: $111.8m | Strategy assets: $3.5bn | Winton AUA: $12.7bn¹

Fund overview

The fund offers a UCITS point of access to Winton's flagship Diversified Macro CTA strategy. The fund is based on almost three decades of research and development at the forefront of systematic trend following. The fund combines a core 75% allocation to trend following with 25% exposure to diversifying signals and trades across commodities, credit indices, currencies, equity indices and fixed income.

Market commentary

The fund ended the month in negative territory as profits from diversifying signals were insufficient to mitigate losses from the core trend following component.

Most of the negative performance over the month was driven by emerging uptrends in bonds and non-USD currencies reversing sharply in the run up to the US presidential election. The fund had been building positions across the two sectors heading into the month and responded to the reversal by cutting exposure. Losses were, however, mitigated by multi-asset carry and cross-sector signals, which were on the right side of the price action. Long exposure to equity indices was another more modest detractor from performance.

The fund's trend following models fared better in the commodity sectors due to capturing downtrends in US natural gas, soybeans and nickel and uptrends in gold, palm oil and lean hogs. Diversifying signals also added value in metals and energies due to fundamental and seasonal models, respectively.

Report notes

1. "Winton AUA" (or "assets under advisement") is based on internal estimates and includes discretionary and non-discretionary assets under management for Winton Capital Management Limited and Winton Investment Management (Shanghai) Co., Ltd. Winton AUA and strategy assets have been risk-adjusted.
2. Source: Morningstar. Past performance is not indicative of future results. Performance shows the net returns since inception in June 2010 for Winton Alma Diversified Macro Fund IIC-U share class. Returns are net of all fees.
3. Reference assets include Bloomberg Global Aggregate Index; MSCI World Index; S&P GSCI Index and; US Dollar Index.
4. All sector returns are estimated and gross of fees. FX contracts held for share class hedging purposes have been excluded.
5. Risk statistics are shown as the average throughout the month. Sensitivities have been calculated by estimating how correlated each of the positions in the fund are with respect to the factor in question. Hence these calculations assume that our position remains unchanged and that the correlation structure of the portfolio remains fixed.
6. Leverage figures are shown as the average throughout the period. Fixed income leverage is calculated by multiplying the notional value by the ratio of the modified duration of the contract to the modified duration of a 10-year T-note. For currencies, exposure is netted when there are two contracts involving the same currency with opposing exposure. This includes FX derivative contracts but not indirect exposure (e.g., assets priced in dollars). Netting may be applied where multiple instruments have identical but opposing underlying exposure.
7. When calculating the portfolio gross leverage, the contribution from currency markets is divided by two to avoid double-counting. The references to Winton leverage and UCITS leverage refer to different methodologies used to calculate the fund's leverage. The calculation of the UCITS leverage using the commitment method, defines leverage as the sum of notional values of the instruments in the portfolio.
8. The risk and reward is calculated using historical data which may not be a reliable indicator of the Fund's future risk. The risk and reward category may shift over time and is not a target or guarantee. The lowest category (i.e. Category 1) does not mean a risk-free investment.
9. Track record of all share classes are available upon request.
10. Please refer to the prospectus for full terms and conditions. Investments are to be made solely on the terms of the relevant prospectus, and no reliance should be placed on this document.
