ALMA PLATINUM IV DLD CONVERTIBLE ARBITRAGE

Share Class: I2C-U (ISIN: LU2334539868), (Currency: USD)

a sub-fund of Alma Platinum IV. The Fund is managed by Alma Capital Investment Management.

OBJECTIVES & INVESTMENT POLICY

The objective of the Fund is to seek capital appreciation by utilizing a spectrum of convertible arbitrage strategies, which are designed to profit from identifying mispriced or expected return differentials that exist between a convertible security and its underlying equity.

The investment manager of the Fund is DLD Asset Management LP (the "Investment Manager"). The Fund is actively managed which means that the Investment Manager is actively making investment decisions for the Fund. The Fund is not managed by reference to a benchmark.

The Investment Manager combines fundamental research and statistical screens to build a portfolio of primarily shorter-duration convertible securities, hedged using equities, options and other parts of the capital structure. While most of the Fund's investment opportunities are in securities of U.S. issuers, the Fund may invest globally.

The Investment Manager applies strategies that may include one or more of the strategies described below in addition to other strategies that may be incorporated in the future:

Put/Carry Trades: This portion of the portfolio focuses on deep-in-the-money convertibles with positive or neutral cash flow where the Fund essentially gets paid to own optionality.

Catalyst/Event-Driven Trades: Occurrence of corporate events such as mergers, acquisitions, spinoffs, repurchase plans, restructurings, or impending maturities that have an impact on convertible and other equity-linked instruments.

Balanced Trades: The Investment Manager seeks convertibles with undervalued options and credit elements, accumulating returns through current yield and bond accretion to fair value. The Investment Manager will look to hedge out credit risk through listed options or other parts of the capital structure, such as high yield bonds. The Investment Manager also seeks to capitalize on active new issuance.

Volatility Trades: The focus in such volatility trades is on short-duration convertibles with pronounced skew. In these trades, the Investment Manager actively trades relative value and underlying equity (gamma) while remaining market-neutral. Credit risk is hedged out through diligent analysis and the specific use of hedging techniques.

The Fund uses various risk management techniques to seek to achieve its objective relative to the risks inherent in the portfolio. As well as using financial contracts (derivatives) and with the aim to reduce foreign currency exposure in respect of the assets (hedging), the Fund will use derivatives for investment purposes.

The gross leverage is expected to not exceed 1000% of the Net Asset Value of the Fund.

No dividends will be paid on your shares.

You may redeem your investment on demand on a weekly basis.

RISK AND REWARD PROFILE

Typically lower reward

Typically higher reward

◀ LOWER RISK

HIGHER RISK ▶

The risk and reward category is calculated using historical data which may not be a reliable indicator of the Fund's future risk profile.

The risk and reward category may shift over time and is not a target or a guarantee.

The lowest category (i.e. Category 1) does not mean a risk-free investment. The Fund is in Category 4 because of the medium range and frequency of price movements (volatility) of the underlying investments referenced by the Fund.

The following are additional risks not covered by the risk and reward category:

The Fund is not guaranteed and your investment is at risk. The value of your investment may go down as well as up.

The Fund relies upon the performance of the Investment Manager of the underlying strategy. If the Investment Manager performs poorly the value of your investment is likely to be adversely affected.

The Fund may invest in bonds the value of which depends on the issuer being able to make its payments. There is always a risk that the issuer will fail to do so which may result in your investment suffering a loss.

The Fund may enter into one or more derivatives with one or more counterparties. If any of the counterparties fails to make payments (for example, it becomes insolvent) this may result in your investment suffering a loss.

Liquidity risk: in case of low trading volume on financial markets, any buy or sell trade on these markets may lead to important market variations/fluctuations that may impact portfolio valuation.

The Fund has been designed for investors who are looking for long term capital growth. The Fund is intended only for knowledgeable and experienced investors who are able to understand and evaluate both the investment strategy and its inherent risks (such understanding, and evaluation may be gained through advice from a professional advisor).

The Fund has increased exposure to particular investments known as leverage. A fall in value of such investments can result in a proportionately greater loss to the Fund.

Convertible arbitrage strategies involve many risks that can affect the results of these strategies including, but not limited to, dramatically rising interest rates or declining market volatility, material change in the dividend policy of the underlying common equity, changes in the issuer's credit rating or unexpected merger or other extraordinary transactions affecting the convertible security or common equity.

Arbitrage strategies attempt to take advantage of perceived price discrepancies of identical or similar financial instruments, on different markets or in different forms. If the requisite elements of an arbitrage strategy are not properly analyzed, or unexpected events or price movements intervene, losses can occur which can be magnified to the extent the Fund is employing leverage. Moreover, arbitrage strategies often depend upon identifying favorable "spreads", which can also be identified, reduced or eliminated by other market participants.

No risk control system is fail safe, and no assurance can be given that any risk control framework designed or used by the Investment Manager will achieve its objective.

More information in relation to risks in general may be found in the "Risk Factors" section of the prospectus.
